FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(PRLog Press Release) May 08, 2011 — explore the beauty within India, or pick an international destination of your choice. The Marry Me team can help you capture your personal romantic moments that you may not have time for during your wedding celebrations. They can also give you ideas on how to incorporate the pictures into your wedding, like using them with your invitations, as a photo montage during your special day or tie it into your décor.

Forget about all those posed, stiff wedding pictures that you are forced to take during the wedding ceremonies; Let Marry Me plan your pre wedding shoot at a national or international destination that you both love. They will provide for all your travel arrangements (both local and air transport) and your accommodation, based on your preferences. All formal arrangements and permissions at the venue will be taken care of. Once you are done with the photo shoot, they can help you with sight-seeing tours as well as your shopping itinerary at the chosen destination. Their highly customized holiday experiences, based on your preferences and requirements, ensure you really 'feel' the destination and not just do the usual 'touristy' things.

Whether it's at a picturesque landmark in the next city or a photo shoot spanning multiple countries, this company is armed with the talent and resources to create the best experience possible. Marry Me works with a talented panel of photographers both in India and internationally who will capture the images in a journalistic style as opposed to a highly posed manner. Marry Me will also help you get dolled up with hair and makeup assistance, put together your photo shoot wardrobe and creatively style your shoot. Trips are available throughout the year, depending on the destination you wish to visit.
